

St. Edward's C E Academy Cheddleton. Our Vision Statement

Our Foundation

As a CE Academy, we subscribe to the Church of England's shared ethos statement for all of its schools. Recognising its historic foundation, the school will preserve and develop its religious character in accordance with the principles of the Church of England and in partnership with the Church at parish and diocesan level.

Our Academy aims to serve its community by providing an education of the highest quality within the context of Christian belief and practice. It encourages an understanding of the meaning and significance of faith, and promotes Christian values through the experience it offers to all pupils.

Where are we now?

We believe that all our children are special and they need to know that they are greatly valued. They belong to a positive and happy learning community which has a strong sense of Christian purpose at its heart; a place where mutual respect, compassion, acceptance and understanding are nurtured.

We offer our children lots of varied opportunities to grow and to learn. This is achieved through the teaching of a broad and balanced curriculum which both challenges and supports them to be the best learners they can be. We believe that their lives are a journey of learning and discovery of which we are privileged to share.

Where do we want to be?

We will do all that we can to guide and support them along their way, developing a strong sense of self-belief and a growing independence.

We will strive to work together as a community and as part of Staffordshire University Academies Trust where everyone is valued; to inspire each other with our love for learning and caring; to aspire to live extraordinary lives within an ever changing world.

St. Edward's CE Academy will continue to be a happy and caring community; a place where our children will be equipped with the knowledge and skills to enable them to flourish in the present and into the future.

How are we going to get there?

Our children deserve the very best! With this standard in mind, we will look honestly at every aspect of our provision and strive relentlessly to improve what we do. We will set high standards; modelling courage, resilience and ambition. Where we need to change, in order to improve, we will do so enthusiastically; where we need to hold on to what makes us great, we will do so with good grace. We will embrace innovation, keep our practice fresh and continue to look outwards for inspiration and affirmation. Our school community - children, parents, teachers, governors and neighbours - will collaborate and thrive in partnership, as God wills, through our daily practice of, 'Learning and Caring Together'.
